Social Dreaming Training

A professional Training Program for Hosting, Application and Research
in Social Dreaming

* Elements, by Daniela Monaci

This Professional Social Dreaming Training Program is the third to be offered by Social Dreaming international Network SDiN. The previous two programs were hosted in Italy, although the Covid pandemic meant that some sessions were held through the internet on the zoom platform.

This third iteration is an exciting new venture in social dreaming, bringing together participants from all over the world in two concurrent streams, one hosted in Europe and one in Australia. It has in-person and virtual components held across a calendar year. The two streams will thus be exposed to dreaming internationally, and each stream will have the opportunity to work with world-class staff members from across the globe.

Social Dreaming is a cross-disciplinary methodology used by professionals in many disciplines including social science, psychotherapy, management, humanities, science, art and other professions dealing with people, their work and personal and occupational wellbeing. Its stance is exploratory - finding ways to inform our societal understanding and our places in this.

TRAINING OUTLINE

The course design allows for theoretical input, and Social Dreaming Matrices with the opportunity for participants to host matrices. There will be individual attention to each trainee, who will receive feedback from the staff and from their colleagues about their hosting of matrices. The program includes the opportunity for participants to design one's project involving dream matrices. Such projects might involve research, consultancy, wellbeing groups, artistic projects or others approved by staff.

The training begins with an opening module via zoom with participants and staff from both streams. Following this are three modules of three consecutive days each and one of four days (four modules in all) distributed throughout the year.

The first module will be held in person: one stream in Turin, Italy and one stream in Melbourne, Australia. This is contingent upon covid restrictions. Should in person training not be possible all the modules will be conducted via the internet (zoom). Other modules will be held on-line at times suitable for the different streams with the opportunity for some part of the sessions to be shared across the two streams.

Between each module there will be an optional session involving a Social Dreaming Matrix, Dream Reflection Dialogues and a catch-up time for participants.

The learning process develops through the following opportunities

- Experiential learning as participant
- Conceptual input, dialogues and discussions
- Co-hosting SD Matrices
- Revision and reflection
- Learning about and discussing role, protocol and ethics
- Hosting Matrices in the field
- Supervision by experienced staff
- Designing, implementing, hosting and reporting on work in SD
- Research in SD

The trainees shall learn through different kind of events

- SD Matrix co-hosted by 2 or 3 participants
- Dream Reflection Group
- Dream Reflection Dialogue
- Dialogues introduced by the host/consultants on the theory of SD
- Creative Role Synthesis applied to group supervision
- Feedback received both by the consultants and the colleagues in training

ADMINISTRATION

Ellie Robinson is a marketing professional with a background in service and NFP marketing. Ellie has experience marketing and providing administrative support for events, group relations conferences and consulting services in the systems psychodynamic field and through these experiences has been exposed to and shown particular interest in Social Dreaming. CONSULTANTS / TEACHING STAFF will be drawn from the following

He works with SD studying Rites of Passage, Religious Rites and cultural contexts. He is a clinical psychologist, psychotherapist, group- analyst and psycho-oncologist. Carla Cremonese

Elena Giannotti

Nuala Dent (Phd). Over the last decade, Nuala has hosted social dreaming matrices in Australia and internationally, both online and in-the-room. In addition to hosting, Nuala has developed an art-based practice of illustrating the images that appear to her during the matrix. Using an ipad to draw, a time-lapse video captures the imagery as it evolves. The method illuminates something of the undercurrent of the matrix-as-a-whole, and adds another dimension to the learning that emerges through the matrix. Nuala is an independent consultant. Her approach is informed by systems psychodynamic, art-based and action learning principles, and integrates practical, theoretical and creative strands. In addition to consulting, Nuala holds academic roles at Swinburne University, Australian Catholic University and the National Institute of Organisation Dynamics Australia, (NIODA), and is an active member of Group Relations Australia (GRA) and the International Society for the Psychoanalytic Study of Organisations (ISPSO).

Simon D'Orsogna

Angela Eden has been member of many Social Dreaming matrices over the last 30 years. She also takes the role of Host and trains people to understand and work in that role. The idea of training stems from Gordon Lawrence who wanted the practice of 'hosting' to have clear guidelines as SD became more diverse. We designed and ran training workshops. Working closely with Franca Fubini, this was the basis for the training in UK and Italy sponsored by the Gordon Lawrence Foundation and now Social Dreaming international Network. Angela works as an organizational consultant (EDENevolution), which is closely connected with metaphor, symbols and dreams, and additionally works as an artist with a range of mixed media and abstract images.

Heather is also a Psychodynamic Counsellor and facilitates reflective practice groups.

Judit Szekacs-Weisz, PhD, has worked with Gordon Lawrence from the late 80s. With a circle of international colleagues they founded Imago East West, and later the Multilingual Psychotherapy Centre (MLPC) providing a creative frame for developing Social Dreaming as a method and a tool for teaching and research.
